Vellum is a translucent material produced from the skin, often split, of a young animal. The skin is washed with water and lime (Calcium hydroxide), but not together. It is then soaked in lime for several days to soften and remove the hair. Once clear, the two sides of the skin are distinct: the side facing inside the animal and the hair side.

nothing crazy about deciding to to spend big bucks for what amounts to a label. I've also heard the analogy that Apple's like living in the city, where everything's controlled; Windows is living in the suburbs, where there's still control but a lot more freedom; and Linux is rural-lots of freedom, but hardly anyone to tell you what to do, even if you want it.
