French literature - The mid-20th century: France's defeat by German troops in 1940 and the resultant division of the country were experienced as a national humiliation, and all French citizens were confronted with an unavoidable choice. Some writers escaped the country to spend the remaining years of the war in the safety of exile or with the Free French Forces.

More from The Quarterly Conversation: Blind Willow, Sleeping Woman by Haruki Murakami The challenge in reviewing a new book by Haruki Murakami is that one has a sense of writing for a group of people who already know about his work—Murakami-fanatics, if you will—and they have preconceived notions. They're reading the review for tidbits, excerpts, news.
