When have you ever heard a mother or father get irrationally upset at a kid coming in covered in infield dirt or beach sand, unless said kid is on his way to a funeral, confirmation or parole hearing? Kids get dirty all the time! This is perfectly natural, as is the inclination to have them clean up before eating food or walking on a carpet.

You need to stop, now! (Filthy Frank)

In almost all states, it is law to stop for a stopped child carrying bus whether you are approaching or are behind the bus on a non-divided roadway. An exception to this rule is Washington State where you may pass a stopped bus as long as the roadway is 3 lanes or more and you are in an opposing lane.

children. You must remain stopped until all children are clear of the roadway and the bus' stop arm is withdrawn. If the highway is divided by a raised barrier or an unpaved median at least five feet wide, you do not have to stop if you are moving in the opposite direction of the bus. Painted lines or pavement markings are not considered barriers.
