You haven't tested your code well. There are two problems with your loop to remove punctuation. The first is that the second argument of std::string::erase defaults to npos, so you erase everything from that point to the end of the string: "wasn't" becomes "wasn", and not "wasnt".The second is that when you correct this, and use testline.erase(i, 1);, you don't test the character which is ...
